Brzezicki lets loose his chops

Producer/guitarist Tony Lowe's project with Big Country and session ace Mark Brzezicki has yielded an eclectic album packed full of progressive rock and fusion. And Brzezicki unleashes enough tasty chops to fill a butcher's shop window. His unerring sense of groove, thrilling way with a well-placed fill and musical flair drive the jazz-inflected 'Overture', while on 'Where Is My Home', Mark flexes his considerable talent with odd-time and on the title track, synths and guitars soar above his unwavering, tight groove.
