PRESS RELEASE

Bram Stoker's Cold Reading

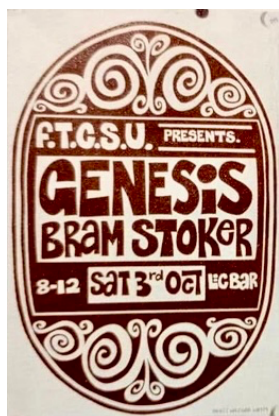

'First class Prog at its best'

Sunn Creative releases Bram Stoker's 2013 highly praised 'Cold Reading' [remastered] album on 31.10.26

Featuring Tony Bronsdon, Tony Lowe, Will Hack

From Tony Lowe – Producer, co-composer, and multi-instrumentalist on Bram Stoker's 2013 - 'Cold Reading' release:

"In the Early days of 1971, I was in a basement on Fulham Palace Rd playing bass on '21st Century Schizoid Man' with Robert Fripp, Mel Collins and Ian Wallace at my second audition for King Crimson. It was unlikely that I would get the job at only 17 years old and with no previous touring experience. Three weeks later I was asked to join 'Bram Stoker', a keyboard led Prog Rock band with Tony Bronsdon on Hammond Organ. Tony's amazing ability on a Keyboard immediately pulled me in and I loved the crossover between Rock and Classical music. We played the Clubs, Colleges and Universities in England and Holland during most of 1971 before breaking up.

Fast forward 40 years to 2011 and I met with Tony Bronsdon over Dinner in Dorset to discuss reforming Bram Stoker with a new line up. There would also be a new album featuring some of the original material plus 8 new songs. I recruited the talented Will Hack on Lyrics and Vocals and spent the rest of the year producing 'Cold Reading', a ten-track album, with Tony Bronsdon on Keyboards and backing vocals, myself on Guitar, Bass, Keyboards and Drum programs and Will Hack on Vocals and Lyrics. Released in 2013 with over 22 rave reviews across England and Europe. The latest live line up is Tony Bronsdon - Keyboards & Vocals; Barry Lines – Bass Guitar & Vocals; Neil Richardson – Guitar & Backing Vocals; Stephen Underhill - Drums."
